SHOOTING HIMSELF IN THE PARK. NEPHEW OF THE LIEBMANN BROTHERS COM-

MITS SUICIDE. The body of a young man who had committed sul-cide by shooting himself in the head and breast was found on Lockont Hill, the highest part of Prospect Park, yesterday afternoon. From papers in his pos-session he was identified as Charles Greenwald, who had been employed for several years as a clerk in the dry-goods house of Liebmann Brothers, in Washington-st. known as the Universal. He was a nephew of Herman and Louis Liebmann, the heads of the firm. Ill health caused him to give up his place recently and is supposed to have led to his taking his own life.

He was found by a policeman about 3 o'clock lying ppon the grass with a bullet-hole in his right temple, and another one in the region of his heart. He tightly clutched a 38 calibre revolver in his right hand when Two chambers of the pistol were empty, and a box of cartridges was lying by his side in the gress. On the body were two promissory notes signed "Charles Greenwald," and a notice from the 32d Regiment to attend the Decoration Day parade and addressed to No. 23 Middagh-st. A boardinghouse is kept there by Mrs. Oppenheimer. It was said there that Mr. Greenwald was born in Germany about twenty-seven years ago, and came to this country with his brother, Edward Max Greenwald. about six years ago. His parents were still in Gernany. He was a salesman in the silk department in the "Universal" up to six weeks ago, when on account of his failing health he was forced to resign. His

The still de had been alling for some time, and week before ast he was in the City Hospital for several days. He was not breakfast yesterday morning, and the other boarders did not notice anything peculiar in his appearance at the time. He was in his usual spirits. He went out in the Park on saturday and seemed to enjoy himself.

Herman Liebmann said last evening that young Greenwald, his nephew, was a well-educated and promising young man, but he had suffered from ill-health for some time. He was in the hospital under freatment for a fortnight, but came out last week and said that he felt preity well, but weak. Mr. Liebmann could assign no cause for the suicide, save sudden insanity from despondency.

frederick Muskgar, twenty-seven years old, who lishment of M. Moretter, No. 125 Harrison-ave., last evening, Gottfried Siegel, fourteen years old, of No. 136 Harrison-ave, was at work with others, and then Muskgar asked in a drunken manner for beer Slegel told him to get out of the place. At this Mushgar picked up what is known as a sausage pick, a tool with a blade fourteen inches in length and threw The boy says as soon as the pick passed and did not hit him he picked it up to throw it to a man named George Lamperter, another employe, in order that the intruder should not get it again. Others say that Siegel threw the pick at Mushgar. The tool point struck Muskgar just over his heart, penetrating point struck Muskgar just over his near, penetrating the ribs and sticking in his body. Surgeon Clayland, of St. Catherine's Hospital, was summoned, and the injured man was taken to the hospital in a critical condition. Siegel was arrested and the other men present were detained as witnesses.

Alexander H. McGuffey, to a Cincinnati Times-Star

In 1837 I was engaged to write a spelling book for Traman a smills, a d for that I received $500. It was published under my own name. In 1840 I compiled a rhetorical guide, or supplementary reader, which also was published under my own name. Most of the selections in this rhetorical guide are now embraced in the Sixth Reader. For this I also received $500. I remember an incident in connection with this book which goes to show the status of the school teacher of those days. I was not twenty years of age when the book was published, and took considerable pride in it, so that when I received the first copy from the binder. I sent it to an intimate friend of many who lived at Graham Mills, near Hamilton, Ohlo. It chanced that the district schoolmaster, one Professor Cojes, was a bourder at her house, and she very naturally lent him the book to examine. NEWS FROM NEW-JERSEY.

MRS. NEWELL SAYS SHE HASN'T ELOPED. SHE HAS INSTEAD BEGUN A SUIT FOR DIVORCE FROM HER HUSBAND.

The unhappy relations that have for a long period existed between Dr. William H. Newell and his wife. Dr. Jennie Newell, of No. 201 Palisade ave., Jersey City, are by no means at an end. It leaked out yesterday that Mrs. Newell had on Saturday last caused divorce papers to be placed in the hands of the sheriff for service on her husband. When less than a month ago Mrs. Newell caused the arrest of her husband and charged him with assaulting and threatening kill her she consulted lawyers concerning the advisability of securing a divorce. It was by the advice of her lawyers that she did not press the charge against her husband. She was told by them that after she had separated from him they would begin a suit for divorce for her, but not until then The papers were made out and delivered to the sheriff and, as published in The Tribune yesterday, she left home on Saturday night and took with her three van loads of sturniture, while her husband and daughter and several others made up a theatre party at Madison Square Garden.

Mrs. Newell was found yesterday by a reporter for The Tribune. She is a good-looking woman, apparently thirty-six years old, and was by no means nervous. She said she regretted beyond expression the publicity that her domestic troubles had received. "My life with Dr. Newell," said she, "lms been a hard one. I have tried very hard to get along with him, but I became convinced that his brain was affected, and I determined to leave him and procure a legal separation.

"I desire to say just here that the story he has given to the papers is a falsehood from beginning to end. The only fact in which there was truth was that I sent the servant girl away. That is true, for I did not want her there. I own the house we lived in and I took no farniture away but my own. Friday Dr. Newell told me he was going to the theatre saturday night and I arranged to have the vans and men drive up when he was gone. The goods were taken to my branch office at No. 510 Summit-ave., where, after a few days I shall live and continue to practise medicine for my support. I did not take any-thing that belonged to Dr. Newell or the children. "In relation to the statement of Dr. Newell that I had a man in my room Thursday night, I wish to say it is not true. I read a paper on electricity that night before the New-York County Medical Soriety. A female physician came home with me. When I left the house Saturday I wanted my hoy Harold to go with me. He said he would when I was settled. It is true that my husband sent me to Morris Plains Lunatic Asylum, but that has nothing to do with this case. I will say that I was as same as any one twenty-four hours after I reached there and I have never taken a prescription from Dr. Newell since. Since then I studied medicine and I have a good practice. The statements made against my character since then I studied medicine and as aline my character practice. The statements made against my character are false."

The bill filed in the Court of Chancery by Mrs. Newell sets forth that she was married seventeen years ago. That she has two children, Maude Kitchey, born December 9, 1874, and Harold, born October 14, 1878. Mrs. Newell says that her husband was unfaithful to her in 1878 and 1879 and at other times until 1890, hand she makes slivia King, wife of Henry King. Emma Patterson, wife of Thomas C. Patterson, Mrs. Martin, a widow, and Emma Ferris, all of Jersey City, co-respondents. Mrs. Newell is the daughter of the late Judge Newton, of Brooklyn.

Thieves broke into the Philadelphia and Reading Coal Company's store at Port Liberty, Communique, on Sunday night and stole two coils of new manile rope worth about $100. The thieves probably took their booty away in a rowboat. This is one of many robberies committed in that neighborhood in the last year.

An application was made yesterday for a receiver for the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, which runs from Winslow Junction to sea Isle City. Cape May County. The application was made on behalf of the Johnson Signal Company, of Rahway. The Chancellor gave the parties two weeks to take testimony and renew the application.

the facts of a robbery rage which took place on Saturday night. Two men broke into the home of Miss Elizabeth Petty, fifty-six years old, at No. 79 Commerce-st., throw woman on the floor and kicked her into insensibility and robbed her of a considerable sum of money. Mis-Petty was formerly a school teacher and is highly edu-cated. Her house is a lone frame structure, and she has led the life of a recluse. Her apartments when visited y steeday were found to be filthy. There were dead cats and dogs in the rooms, and the house was littered with all kinds of refuse. A health inspector who visited the house found wads of bank bills staffed into corners and in the furniture, and there were gold and silver among the refuse on the floor.

It was rumored vesterday that a mistake had been made in regard to the sentencing of Lucy Gardner, of East Orange, who was convicted of stealing from Stern Bros., and that sentence would be imposed to morrow. The woman's counsel will carry an appeal in her case to the Supreme Court.

The Ping y Academy, conducted by the Rev. John F. Pingry for over half a century as a preparatory school for pupils destring to enter collect, is about to change hands. The venerable Dr. Pingry want to retire, as his health is getting feeles. It is proposed to call a meeting of prominent citizens and try to form a steek company, to be known as the Pingry School Association. The Hev. Mr. Lytile, Dr. Pingry's assistant, is at the head of the movement to continue the old school. It is believed the project will be successful.

DYING AT THE AGE OF 107 YEARS.

Mrs. Catharine Highes died yesterday at the age of 7 years. She was born in New Brunswick April 16, 1774, and had lived under the rule of every Prestdent of the United States. During the later years of her life she was blind, but her other faculties were her fife and she often told stories of her young days. Children of five generations are living, though only one of her own children. Capitain Matthias Tice, survives. She was married six times, and leaves beside her son nine grandchildren, seventeen grandchildren and six grang-grandchildren.

NORTHERN NEW-JERSEY COUNTIES. ORANGE.—The fine old home of the late Mrs. Georgiana L. Heckscher, adjoining the grounds of the Essex County Country Club. in Hutton Park, West Orange, was sold at auction yesterday to close out the estate. There were a number of bidders and the property was knocked down to Mrs. John C. Wilmerding. Mrs. Wilmording intends to remodel and renovate the house and grounds and occupy it as her summer home. The property is one of the most beautiful in all the Granges. There are about six acres of ground, a fine manifon built in the bast manner, a gentlemen's cottage with fine bulltard-room attached, two barns and stables, gardener's cottages, ample and well stocked greenhouses and conservatories and all possible considered by good judges to be for below its value. sidered by good ladges to be for below its virue, BLOOMFIELD.—Edward Shields and William Ellory, each twelve years old, and living in Bloomfield, entered the store of Mrs. Robert Hale in that place yesterday and took $130 from a pocket-book behind the counter. PASSAIC.—Michael Muchari, a Hungarian living in the Dundee district of Passaic, went fishing in the Dundee Canal with two companions late on Saturday night. The men, who it is said had been drinking freely, cast out their lines and went to sleep on the bank near the waste water-gate, which at this point is about twenty feet above the water. Muchari's companions woke on Sunday morning and found no traces of him. The canal was drugged and his dead body was found. He had undoubtedly rolled off the bank while asleep.

OTHER SUBURBAN TOWNS.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY. " * YONKERS.—Considerable excitement was caused in the eastern district of Yonkers yesterday morning by the discovery by Officer Dinsmore of over 8,000 pounds of dynamite stored in a disused ice-house upon the Martin farm on the Grassy Spring Road. There was Martan farm on the Grassy Spring Road. There was explosive enough to demolish half of the city. The farm is leased to a man named Jones, who sub-lets li to J. B. Pennell & Co. The farm is unculityated, and people have noticed many heavily loaded wagons enter the premises. The police will see that the dangerous explosive is removed.

LONG ISLAND. SHE HADN'T COURAGE TO PULL THE TRIGGER.

Mrs. A. J. Schlingheyde, who lives in Grand-ave.

Long Island City, had a lively experience with a burglar on Sunday night. She was awakened about 2 o'clock in the merning by some one moving about her bed-room. She rose up is bed and saw a masked man rummaging through the bureau drawers. She got out of hed and entered an adjoining room where her husband slept. A revolver was in a table drawer. Mrs. Schilingheyde secured the weapon and returned to her bed-room. As she re entered her spartment the to her bed-room. As she received her spacement the burglar faced her. She levelled the weapon, but she says she could not summon sufficient courage to fire. The burglar slowly backed out of the room. As he disappeared through the door Mrs. Schlingheyde screamed. Her husband sprang out of bed and ran into the hall. The thief heard him and turned out the lamp and fled down the stairs and disappeared.

PREDACEOUS INSECTS FOR CALIFORNIA. From The San Francisco Bulletin.

From The San Francisco Bulletin.

Secretary Lelons, of the State Board of Horticulture, announces that Albert Koebele, of Alameda, the discoverer of the Vedalia cardinalis, will depart soon for Australia. New Zealand and adjacent countries, to search for parasitig insects for introduction into this state. An arrangement has been made whereby the Department of Articulture pays his salary, and the State Board of Horticulture pays all his expenses, and he will thus be kept abroad at least two years.

The hast Legislature passed a oill appropriating $5.000 for the purpose of sending an expert to Australia to search for parasitic and predaccous insects for distribution throughout the State. It was hoped then that Mr. Koebele night be secured for this purpose, but his assignment was a little doubtful, as he was then secured for the Government exploration work in Death Valley. The legislative bill above mentioned

There is plenty for Mr. Koebele to do on his trip, and, enthustast as he is, our hortienitusists may rely upon securing through him benefits similar to those galned from the introduction of the vedalla. From all reports Australia and adjacent islands contain any number of insects whose chief alm in life is to destroy nother insects. There is a grasshopper parasite, that, as a fly, lays a tiny egg on the back of the hopper. As the germ develops the parasite pushes into the hopper's internal anatomy and disaster results. If Mr. Koebele can get some of these, they will be an eventy to have.

per's internal anatomy, and disaster towards kochele can get some of these, they will be very handy to have.

Another thing he will search for will be an enemy of the red scale, aspidiotus aurantii, which thus far southern California orange-growers have been unable to overcome. It is fortunately not as prevalent as the Icerya scale was before the vedalla began its philanthropic work. It is the only unconquered orange scale, for recently an enemy called the coccophagus citrions has been sent to work on the yellow scale enspidiotus citrious, and it has rejuvented many of the holighted growers of the San Gabriel Valley where the yellow scale was especially prevalent. All peargowers will bless Mr. Kochele if he can find an insect that will prev on the San Jose scale aspidrotus perulcious, the scale that makes the tiny red spots on pears. How all rose-growers would like to know of a destroyer of the rose scale. If he can find something that will fight the lemon scale (my fliaspis gloveril), a fast growing lemon industry will be much encouraged. Olive-growers as yet know of no natural enemy of the black olive scale, about the only pest the olive tree has, and how all the apricot-growers would like to hear of something that would silentiv rid their trees of the pesky brown applied scale. There certainly is plenty for Mr. Kochele to do.
